Schools, tourism concerns relayed

Hopefully, John Eakins "will see the light that education is a provincial issue," PC candidate Art Ward told party leader Larry Grossman during his visit to the riding Thursday morning.

Referring to Liberal candidate Eakins' reluctance to get involved in the northern schools issue, Ward told Grossman that one of the main issues in the local campaign is the Victoria County Board of Education's plan to close five small schools in the northern part of the county.

"If it's not his responsibility ... if it's not his issue, whose is it?" Ward asked during his discussion with Grossman on the banks of the Scugog River in Lindsay.

Welcomed by about 50 sign-waving supporters, all adorned with blue and white "ForWard" buttons and caps, the Tory leader arrived by bus in Lindsay at about 11 a.m. Wednesday. In an apparent bid to listen to the concerns of this riding, Grossman was seated at a picnic table beside the Lindsay Locks while he heard the local issues from Ward, and others.

Tory welcome

Progressive Conservative party leader Larry Grossman received a rousing welcome when he arrived in Lindsay on Thursday. Grossman listened to the local concerns as expressed by Victoria - Haliburton P.C. candidate Art Ward.

Concerns

Among the concerns raised were the conditions of area lakes which are said to be deteriorating as sewage is allowed to seep into them, and the decline in the number of American tourists visiting the area.

Although he would not put a dollar figure on the cost to improve sewage treatment facilities across the province, Grossman said he is prepared to do whatever takes to protect the lakes. He said the Ministry of the Environment does not have the detailed information to give a cost estimate, "because they don't want to have it."

Grossman criticized the Liberal government for its "absolute neglect" of provincial lakes over the past two years. He adds that the Liberals are not willing to address the issue in this

Access point stays open

A representative from the Ministry of Natural Resources will be asked to attend a Lutterworth Township Council meeting after a bid to close off a public access point to Spar Lake was denied.

"They're trying to hog tie us," said councillor Al Stott in response to the ministry's recommendation against the closure of the shoreline until a suitable alternate access can be found.

Councillor Lisa Mercer asked, "Why don't we invite them in and discuss it. They don't understand what we want."

At its previous meeting, council voted in favour of stopping up the shoreline. Council was acting on complaints from a neighboring resident, who was concerned about the public use of the access.

According to council, there is one other public access to the lake. This one, described as Street A, is said to be a sheer drop-off to the lake. For this reason, council agreed at the earlier meeting to not publicize the location of Street A.

Asked if the closure of this access point would, in effect, make Spar Lake a private lake, councillor Al Stott said no. He said there is a creek adjacent to the property that could still be used to gain access to the lake.

Police investigate Highway death

Officers from the Coboconk OPP were combing the shoulder of Highway 121 south of Kinmount last Wednesday and Thursday looking for clues of the cause of death of a 43-year-old Peterborough woman.

Gail Adams was rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay early Wednesday morning where she was pronounced dead on arrival, a press release from the Lindsay OPP detachment says.

Although the matter is still under investigation, police believe Adams was struck by a southbound vehicle as she walked along the highway two kilometres south of Kinmount. Police were called to the scene at 12:45 a.m. where they found Adams lying in the west ditch with extensive injuries.

An autopsy has been ordered by the District Coroner. Police are also asking that anyone who was travelling that section of highway between 11 p.m. on Tuesday and 12:30 a.m. on Wednesday contact the OPP.

Fourth candidate enters fray

The provincial election race in Victoria - Haliburton has become a four-horse race with the inclusion of two new candidates over the last week.

NDP candidate Ivan Moore won the right to carry his party's banner after being acclaimed at the nomination meeting in Lindsay last Monday. This made him the third candidate in the race along with Art Ward, PC, and John Eakins, Liberal.

The fourth candidate, Diane Roblin Lee, has announced that she will also be vying for the opportunity to represent this riding. Lee, a 43-year-old television talk show host, will be representing the newly-formed Family Coalition Party.

Literature from the FCP, which was formed only two weeks prior to the election call, says the party "can give you someone to vote for with a clear conscience now that the other three parties have left you disenfranchised. It can be a political voice for the unborn. It can promote respect for the family. It can build a caring society. It can bring ethics back into government."

Lee, who has been a resident of Argyle for seven years, hosts the early morning show Nit Lit on Channel 47 from Toronto. This is a two-hour Christian program associated with 100 Huntley Street.

The newly-formed party had 31 candidates nominated to run in ridings across the province by the end of last week. Lee's husband, Warren, said. Just into their sixth day of campaigning on Friday, Warren said the local association already has 150 people working for it.

He said his wife became interested in the party after learning that an FCP candidate was running in the Durham York riding. "She felt concerned about the fact there is very little choice from the other three parties," he said. And when she learned of the FCP, he said she decided to give it a shot.

During the past week, The Times posed a number of questions to the three provincial election candidates in this riding to bring into focus some of the issues facing voters September 10. The following are the responses prepared by the candidates. Voters in this area are reminded that The Times is sponsoring a public debate among all candidates Thursday September 3 at the Minden Community Centre, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Bypass restrictions

Minden has recently experienced the loss of at least one potential new business because of restrictions regarding new development on the Highway 35 bypass. Do you feel an examination of the restrictions imposed by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications is warranted?

John Eakins, Liberal: The authority allowing for a controlled access designation arises from a directive signed by a previous government on December 22, 1970. This reaffirmed earlier decisions of 1960 and 1961 when Mr. Frost was Premier. If the Minden by-pass is more restrictive than other comparative highways across the Province I will take immediate action to have this changed. The by-pass must be treated equally and it will be.

Art Ward, P.C.: I believe a complete and thorough examination of these restrictions is overdue. This examination should include ample opportunity for local people to have written and oral input to the study. In many cases these restrictions were laid down years ago and need to be reviewed at the local level. A reasonable time limit should be placed on this study so as not to deter any further developments on this busy corridor.

Ivan Moore, N.D.P.: Yes, I believe an examination of the restrictions is warranted if it can be demonstrated that the restrictions indeed are limiting or losing new business.

Employment inequities

While the southern portion of Victoria-Haliburton riding is now enjoying high employment levels due to the start-up or expansion of of a number of manufacturing outlets, employment in the north is mostly of a seasonal nature, generally offering minimum wage. What would you propose as a solution to the employment troubles in the northern part of this riding?

Eakins: I have already met with a County citizens committee to urge for a plan of preparedness and action. Properly zoned and serviced land will always be an incentive for business and industry to build or relocate. We must also assure the continued assistance through our programs and promote Haliburton as a four season destination. Tourism is a major industry - promote it and develop it.

Ward: I believe that a number of light manufacturing industries, that are compatible to our tourism base and non-polluting, would be interested in establishing in our area. I think that an M.P.P. can lead the effort to attract such industries by being more of a salesman for our riding in this regard. Once the contacts and leads are established, it is up to the individual municipalities to follow up by making available the industrial parks and services required. I have noticed that the Muskokas have been quite successful in the past ten years in attracting these plants and I see no reason why we shouldn't be too.

Moore: More and better promotion of year round tourism would certainly help the employment levels and reduce the seasonal aspect. Certainly the lack of a good north/south transportation corridor is a deterrent to industry locating in the northern portion of our counties. Every effort should be made to upgrade our northern roadways. Concessions and incentives should be made to get industry to locate or relocate in the northern portion of the riding.

Tourism development

With tourism accounting for a large part of the economies of both Victoria and Haliburton counties, what steps would you recommend to ensure continued growth in this industry, particularly in this riding?

Eakins: Continuation of the Programs I have already introduced will stimulate our Tourism Industry to upgrade and promote itself as a destination for Haliburton and Victoria Counties. Programs such as Destinations East, enhancement of our loan programs for industry and assistance to municipalities to provide services to many of our areas, are practical ways to ensure continued growth and at the same time protect our environment. Our Tourism awareness and Hospitality Training program will get under way in September and will help contribute to our Counties being recognized as one of the major Hospitality Centres of this Province.

Ward: I would cancel the present capital development programmes put into place by our current minister and replace them with a long term interest rate support programme. This programme would guarantee a 7 per cent interest rate on borrowing from the banks. I would make it available to all tourism operators in Ontario, except in major metropolitan areas. This is similar to the programme that the Progressive Conservative Party has proposed for the agricultural sector and will enable small businesses to upgrade, expand and improve their facilities to better meet the needs of today's tourist.

Moore: Funding by the provincial government of events such as the recent hot air balloon contest in Fenelon Falls brings new tourists in to the area. It is up to the local tourist industry to keep them interested in coming back. Additional funding for events of this type plus national and international advertising campaigns should be allocated by the tourism ministry to further the tourist industry in this area.

Transportation link

One of the main deterrents to attracting small industry to the northern two-thirds of this riding is the absence of a viable transportation link with the province's main market. Do you propose any developments in this regard?

Eakins: Yes. Upgrading of our highway system is well under way, after deteriorating for so many years. Highway 35 is nearing completion. Highway 507 will soon be finished and plans are being finalized for the reconstruction of Highway 503. These routes will carry large volumes of traffic. Other major routes are in the discussion stage which will certainly benefit Haliburton. A good highway system is vital to the development of our businesses and industries.

Ward: The major roads leading to this area are already in need of considerable upgrading and expansion. In order that we continue a programme of orderly development, for cottagers and residents alike, it is imperative that the long range plans of the Ministry of Transportation for these busy arteries be reviewed with a suitable plan to speed up their construction. I see this as an urgent priority for the member for Victoria - Haliburton. As well, our future could be greatly influenced if the future expansion of Highway 404 was to come into our riding. I also would suggest a joint provincial and county study to determine the best location for an expanded airport facility to serve Haliburton County.

Moore: I addressed this question in my answer to number 2 question.

Northern schools

Of great concern to residents of the northern part of Victoria County is the so-called northern schools issue. The Victoria County Board of Education is proposing to close five of its schools and replace them with two larger schools. Are you in favour of provincial intervention in this matter?

Eakins: The Provincial Government and the Ministry of Education will always be vitally interested in the needs of the smaller communities in our Counties. I personally favour the retention of schools in these communities where ever possible. Our citizens elect a school board to make decisions on school matters on their behalf and it would be inappropriate for other elected officials to interfere. I agree with the former Conservative Education Critic who said that we should be careful in inviting Queen's Park to interfere or dictate.

Ward: I think that the people directly effected by this very costly decision should be allowed to determine the outcome. The Victoria County Board of Education has contravened the Education Act regarding school closings and therefore the Minister of Education should intervene on behalf of the people. My proposal to upgrade and completely rehabilitate the existing schools would cost less than half of the costs associated with new schools and would eliminate the need for more busing.

Moore: The school issue is a V.C.B.E. problem and they should be afforded every opportunity to solve it. It is not the place of the province to interfere at this time.

Water quality

Over the past few months, much attention has been focused on water quality in area lakes. While the lakes do not yet appear to be suffering, many spetic systems on these lakes have been identified as "seriously substandard". Are you in favour of stricter legislation to ensure these systems are upgraded?

Eakins: Yes. A recent study by the Peterson Government in 1986 has revealed that a situation in our lakes requires urgent action. This action is being carried out and co-operation to date has been excellent. It is absolutely important that all steps be taken to replace substandard systems, and the necessary legislation to enforce it.

Ward: The existing legislation is strict enough but enforcement is not, I think the cottagers and residents are sufficiently environmentally conscious to upgrade their systems when these substandard conditions are identified. I cannot think of any issue more important than the quality of the water in our lakes.

Moore: If the environmental protection agencies enforced the environmental laws, most of our problems with water qualities would disappear. I am in favour of legislation that will clean up the environment, but the government must enforce these laws.

Increased enrolment causes late start

The growing influx of children to the county's elementary school system is starting to be felt as space requirements grow. The need for additional space has resulted in the kindergarten classes at Victoria Street School in Haliburton, starting their school year on a delayed basis.

School principal Ruth Gorrie and the school's two kindergarten teachers, Bonnie Walling and Marlene Welch, appeared before the Haliburton County Board of Education Tuesday evening to outline a plan for delayed start to formal classes. Mrs. Gorrie told the board that 75 students have been registered for the school's three kindergarten classes this fall and more could be expected before the school year begins.

She told the trustees that while there was space to accommodate the three classes, one will be located in a portable structure next to the school, there would not be a room available during the first month in which to carry out the early identification testing program. This program involves a lengthy interview and assessment of the student to determine if the child has any special needs or requirements. The assessments must be carried out in an area without distractions, which raises the need for additional space while the testing is being completed.

Since no other space was available at the school, the principal and staff suggested a limited number of students attend school for a single day during September at which time they will have an opportunity to be involved in a regular kindergarten program as well as undergoing the early identification testing. After the single day at school the student will not return on a regular basis until September 28 or 29, depending on whether they attend on odd or even numbered days.

In the past, kindergarten classes were started on a staggered basis, with five new students being added to the class each day. This assisted the teacher in integrating the children into the program, and meant that regular, full-size classes were not underway until the latter part of September. The principal said the delayed start could mean that full classes may start one or two days later than under the previous system.

Director of Education, Stuart Baker, pointed out that the county system is likely to experience increased space requirements in the coming years.

The board endorsed the plan for a delayed start of the classes. The principal said that parents of the students will receive notification of the new procedures.

campaign.

Avoiding issues

This strategy "has a familiar ring to it on all the issues," he said. "It is the desire of this government to try and get its mandate and tell you what they're going to do once they get it."

Grossman said a courageous government deals with the problems before they get out of hand. He said the Liberals are willing to make speeches, but that is not enough. Regarding the status of the lakes, he said the government is neglecting its own MOE reports. He said the government has the money to do what is necessary, but it is not willing to make the commitment.

Regarding tourism in the county, Ward told Eakins that this has been a good summer for most resorts. However, he notes that things could have been better if visitors from the U.S. received more encouragement to come here.

Tourism

"American tourists are not coming back in the same numbers," Ward said. Even with their inflated dollar, Americans are finding it costly to travel in Ontario because of the gas prices. Ontario's share of the American market is not increasing, said the former chairman of Tourism Ontario.

Peter Elmherst, owner of Elmherst Resort and vice chairman of Tourism Ontario, substantiated Ward's claim. He told Grossman that taxes on liquor, food and accommodation have more than offset the difference in the dollar. He said tourism operations have experienced a shift in their clientelle. While more Canadians are travelling within the country, fewer Americans are visiting.

Grossman, a former Tourism Minister with the Tory government, said part of the problem is the advertising campaign being waged by Eakins, the current minister. He said tourism advertising has to show quality, noting that his ads were award winners. Taking a jab at Eakins, he said "when we were there we were able to find nice lakes." He referred to one of the current ads that he said was filmed entirely in a studio.

Issue dancing

With just over two weeks of campaigning left in this Provincial election, voters in Victoria - Haliburton are still very much in the dark as to where our Liberal candidate stands on almost every issue.

John Eakins, who has earned the respect of almost everyone in the riding for his vigorous representation of our concerns at Queen's Park, now seems to have perfected the art of issue dancing. When confronted with a question, his replies are vague, containing very little substance. It would seem that Conservative Leader Larry Grossman's remark that the Liberals' first interest is getting its mandate may be correct.

The Liberals are almost guaranteed of winning a large majority in this election. People seem generally pleased with their performance over the past two years and are not concerned about the future.

No, Eakins is not entirely to blame. The people in this riding seem content to allow him to dance around any issues. It seems that people are so enthralled with his past performance that they are willing to base their decisions on that alone. During a recent visit to Minden, Eakins dropped in at almost every business on the main street and was not once confronted with a question about his plans for the future.

Is Eakins so well liked that we are willing to give him a blind mandate?

It may very well be that Eakins does deserve our support. However, thus far in the campaign, he has shown very little of the stuff that earned him our respect in the first place.

During the final few weeks of this campaign a number of public forums are scheduled around the riding, including one in Minden. Let's make it a point to find out where each candidate stands.

Waiting for company.

People are more friendly

Editor:

It is possible to spend years of summer weekends and vacations at a rustic retreat on the shores of your favourite lake, and not really know any one of your fellow cottagers other than immediate neighbours, and the traditional wave to the passing boaters. Many people prefer it that way.

On the other hand cottage life is changing in the Haliburton Highlands in a variety of ways most of which are good, and all of which are irreversible. It is no longer necessary to fill the car on the long trip north with all the groceries, food and drinks when you can now easily slip into town on decent roads or go out to dinner at a reasonably good restaurant.

Rarely in years past did one drop in unannounced at a friend's cottage for fear of interrupting their privacy, especially since phones were few and far between. Today a phone call and an invitation for a drink on the deck or evening steaks on the barbecue are common place and delightful.

The changed way of life is to be especially noted through the shared community of interest and awareness of the need to preserve the quality of our lakes so that we and our children can enjoy them for years to come.

A good example is the recent formation of the South Lake Association of Cottagers and Residents which in just two years has struck a nice balance between a serious agenda and a modest social programme. An action plan on water quality pollution, emergency services, and neighbourhood watch combined with a social programme designed not to intrude but rather enhance that community of interest that exists on our pretty lake.

S.L.A.C.A.R. president Bob Martin said it was 'a-maizing' that our August 15 Corn Roast attracted more than a hundred Association members with their families. Phyllis and Kevin De Grace provided their cottage, deck, and water front for the picnic, games, soft drinks, and buckets of hot, delicious corn. A sunny day, and an excellent bit of planning with enthusiastic participation was provided by Gail rowett, and her Social Committee of Marie Ray, Phyllis De Grace, Donna Martin, Eleanor Lymer, Peggy Kelly and Ray Lymer. Hats off to "the cook" Ray Lymer and his helpers.

It might be my imagination but I sense a greater friendliness in that customary wave to the boaters on South Lake.

I am writing in regards to an article printed in your paper of August 3, 1987 entitled "Standards Must Be Met". The person responsible for the writing of this article does not have many of the facts correct starting with the first sentence. The corrections and missing facts will be outlined further in the following amended version.

The first sentence in paragraph one should read or be printed as follows: the road leading from Buller Road and East Moore's Lake Road to Beaver Lake, Gull River and Moore's Lake. It is not just the road leading to Beaver Lake.

The first sentence in paragraph two should read or be printed as follows: 17 residents from Beaver Lake, Moore's Lake and Gull River. It is not 17 residents from Beaver Lake alone.

The first sentence in paragraph four should have a figure of approximately 80 cottages on that road comprised of approximately

Objects to noise

Editor:

I was disappointed to read that Deputy Reeve Bern Berry's attempt to introduce a motion calling for the introduction of a new Anti-Noise By-law was to no avail.

We have suffered through five years of annoying barking from our neighbour's dog. Phone calls to its owners asking them to make it be quiet have fallen on deaf and unco-operative ears. The dog is tied up and left to bark all day long, and even in the evening it is allowed to continue barking unchecked.

At present we have no recourse and must put up with this disturbance. An Anti-Noise By-law, if it were in place, could be enforced, and maybe we would be able to enjoy the peace and quiet that a rural area should offer.

I strongly urge that this By-law be placed on the books of our Township now. Let us not wait and pass this responsibility on to the next Council. Do It Now.

Canada World Youth

Salahudin Mehtab and Scott Booth are this week's featured Canada World Youth participants. During their stay here, Salahudin and Scott are living with Kim and Murray Cowan. The 14 CWY participants arrived in Haliburton in July for the first half of a seven-month exchange.

Salahudin Mehtab

My name is Salahudin Mehtab. I am from Pakistan. I am 20 years old. I live in the small and beautiful city of Bannu in the North West Frontier Province. Bannu is a Persian word meaning Forests. It is close to Afganisten. My native language is Urdu. And my mother language is Passto.

I am the oldest of my family. I have three brothers and two sisters. They are studying in different colleges and schools. My father is a government contractor, and my mother is a house woman.

I am studying in Bannu College and I am a student of B.A. final. My subjects are Health and Physical Education and Islamic studies. After my masters in Health and Physical Education I will go to the U.S.A. for my Ph.D. degree in H.P.E.

Basically I am a sportsman. I am a National Athlete. In Athletics my events are long jump and hop step and jump (triple jump) and decathalon. I have created so many records and got a lot of medals.

For the last two years I have been playing for Pakistan Steel Mills.

When I came to know about this programme, I felt that it was a very good chance for me to see the other part of the world, and watch the living style of the people. I am very fond of travelling and this is a great chance for me to spend summer holidays in Canada.

I decided to apply for the programme and in May I found out that I was selected for the group for Canada World Youth.

Although I would be missing my final examination, I felt that it was a very good programme. Therefore I left my examination and came to this programme.

I am thousands of miles away from my beloved homeland Pakistan. I didn't find any problem here. My host family, Kim and Murray Cowan and their son Luke, accepted me as a family member. My host family is very good, and they love me very much. I am happy here.

My work project is here with Kim and Murray Cowen. They have their own farm with horses and cattle. I enjoy it here very much. It is a new experience for me to work with horses because I am a sportsman and my whole life has been spent in sports. I don't know about any type of work, only games. So it is a new experience in my life and I will learn a lot about horses. I am enjoying this.

Scott Booth is my counterpart in this programme. He is a very good boy and we both are happy here with Kim and Murray Cowen.

Scott Booth

There is nothing I have ever done nor, do I feel anything I could have done to prepare me for the experiences of Canada World Youth. So many things are new and amazing.

I have spent the last two years studying Rural Resources Management in Vermont, USA. The experiences gained there helped me get ot know some of our American neighbours as well as the world a little better. But, living with someone from a culture so different from ours is a really new experience.

My Pakistani counterpart is Salahudin Mehtab. He is a man with a great deal of pride for his family and his country. He is also a gold medal track athlete. We are quickly growing into brothers.

My rambunctious youth spent with my three brothers and sister has helped me with patience, a big ingredient for the success of this program. My family is living in Sherwood Park, Alberta. I am the middle child.

My own personal goals for the program are to find some more direction for my future. I have a few definite goals for the future, but since I am young I am keeping my options open.

This program has brought one important point to mind. We Canadians are treated with a great deal of hospitality. I think it would be great if we could return some of that hospitality to our Pakistani guests.

Feds boast strong record

- by Bill Scott -

The government's record of sound economic management has resulted in jobs, lower interest rates, price stability, an improved fiscal situation and an improved investment climate.

Employment Rises, Unemployment Declines - A total of 865,000 jobs have been created since September 1984, an average of 25,441 per month. In contrast, only 424,000 jobs were created between the February 1980 and September 1984 elections, an average of 7,709 per month. Well over 80 per cent of those jobs are full-time. In contrast, 80 per cent of the jobs created under the previous government were part-time. A total of 500,000 jobs have been created for women. The unemployment rate has fallen from 11.7 per cent in September 1984 to 9.1 per cent in July 1987. The youth unemployment rate has fallen from 18.3 per cent to 14.0 per cent. Between 1984 and 1986, more jobs were created in Canada than in either France, Germany, Italy or the United Kingdom, countries that each have more than twice our population.

Interest Rates Fall - Since the election, the Bank of Canada rate has fallen by 3.19 percentage points to 9.19 per cent, as of August 7. The Chartered Bank Prime Rate has fallen by three percentage points to 10 per cent. For a small business with an interest rate based on prime plus a fixed number of percentage points, this means an annual saving of almost $1,000 for each $33,000 of debt. The rate on five-year mortgages has fallen by three percentage points to 11 1/2 per cent. This represents a saving of $92 per month on a $50,000 mortgage. The interest rate on five-year Farm Credit Corporation loans has fallen by 2 1/2 percentage points to 11 1/2 per cent. The deficit has fallen from a record $38.3 billion in the 1984 - 85 fiscal year to a projected $29.3 billion this year. This will be the first consecutive three-year decline in the deficit in three decades. The Canadian economy has grown by 11 per cent in real terms since that of all other major OECD nations. In real terms, personal disposable income has increased by more than $600 per Canadian.

Construction Rises - In 1986, the value of building permits was up 26 per cent compared to 1985, and up 59 per cent compared to 1984. Housing starts in June 1987 were at a "seasonally adjusted at annual rates" level of 243,000, an increase of 72 per cent since September 1984. Housing starts last year were at their highest level in eight years.

International Tourism Increases - The number of tourists entering Canada in the first six months of 1987 was up 19 per cent compared to the same period in 1984.

Consumer Spending Rises - Consumer spending is rising, and that is good news for small businesses, manufacturers and the unemployed. Retail sales have increased by 28 per cent since the election. The inflation rate (Consumer Price Index) has been in the four per cent range for three years, the most stable price environment since 1971.

Farm Income Rises - Realized net farm income increased by 24 per cent last year. This was partly the result of increased direct government payments (i.e. Western Grain Stabilization Act) and lower expenses (i.e. interest costs).

Tax Reform - According to the Conference Board of Canada, the "Stage One" tax reform changes announced by Finance Minister Michael Wilson in June will stimulate economic growth.

Economic growth will be substantially higher in 1988 and 1989 than would otherwise be the case. Tax reform will lead to the creation of an additional 184,000 jobs by 1991, and reduce the unemployment rate by an additional one-half of a percentage point. Stage One of tax reform will add $11-billion to consumer spending over a four-year period beginning in 1991. Housing construction will also be stimulated. An extra 40,000 homes will be built by 1991.

For provincial and municipal governments, the net fiscal results "are startling". In spite of reduced provincial income taxes, provincial and municipal deficits will fall because of the combined effects of increased corporate tax revenue, the provincial sales tax revenues that will result from increased consumer spending, and the higher federal transfers that will result from stronger growth. Provincial and local governments deficits will be $1.1 billion lower by 1991.

Corporate tax reform will maintain Canada's tax competitiveness with the United States.

Tar harms bird

Editor:

The people who do the roads are trying to do a good job but they aren't really thinking. They didn't put enough stones and sand on the tar and it formed a river of tar. A sparrow got stuck in the tar. Ryan picked it up and he took it back home and Brock told Mom that we found the poor little bird. We tried to get the tar off of it to save its life. We went to Mr. Wray and he said he couldn't help the bird. We brought it home and wrapped it up and put it in a little box. We hope this won't happen to any more little birds. We hope this message gets to you.

Ryan, Sarah and Brock Ladurantaye,
Minden.

P.S. Today there are three very upset children learning a lesson of life. They are washed clean with gas, soap and water, but after the damage is done, there is not much we can do to save a tiny sparrow.

Thanks to Dr. Bennett for your kindness and understanding.

Anti-noise bylaw in the works

People concerned with excessive noise in Minden should be aware that Anson, Hindon and Minden Township is in the throes of drafting a new anti-noise bylaw, says Councillor Verne Graham.

Recent concern that the noise problem is growing in Minden caused a group of residents to relay their experiences to council at the August 13 meeting.

Graham says a new bylaw has been prepared and is now in the hands of the township's solicitor. Once it has undergone the solicitor's scrutiny, it will likely be put into effect by council, says Graham.

Reader rebuts story

22 cottages from Beaver Lake, approximately 38 cottages from Moore's Lake and Gull River, approximately 20 approved building lots available - the figure of 25 printed pertains to Beaver Lake alone.

From paragraph five onward the article leaves the reader with the impression the cottagers of the area are asking township for a great deal more than to what they are entitled to. For example, paragraph five clearly states "making the private road into a township road." What the sentence fails to continue on with is that the residences (cottagers) serviced by the road bought their properties some twenty years ago under the pretence there would be a bridge built across the river (of which the township agreed to pay half) and there would be a township road.

Paragraph six states, "Ministry funding is not normally available until a road has been brought up to standards and assumed by the municipality". Bearing this in mind, the township accepted East Moore's Lake Road which was not up to standards at that time. There appears to be a set of double standards here.

At one time or another council did accept a portion of the road lying along the Gull River toward Moore's Lake. Mr. Stott and Mr. Valentine were among previous council members who, in 1985, passed a zoning change for properties on this road. These properties held deeds which claimed they are situated on a township road. Council, including the two aforementioned were familiar with this deed and its contents, therefore accepting it as being on a township road. A vast majority of cottagers made a written and personal opposals to this re-zoning. Mr. H. Gerditschke was asked at that time by one council member if the reason for his opposal was because he was trying to protect the other potential buyers of property from making the same mistake by thinking they had purchased property on a township road. Despite all our objections, council still went ahead and passed the rezoning without any conditions concerning property access. What was the reason for this?

At Tuesday's meeting Mr. Valentine commented that before the road is taken over by the township completely we would all be dead. I failed to see these comments from Mr. Valentine in print. Perhaps Mr. Valentine has no respect or concern for the users of this road.

The township of Lutterworth spent $22,000.00 for the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and to the best of my knowledge continues to aid them with other monies for insurance etc. The townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden together donated the same amount of money with a population almost three times that of Lutterworth. The township also collects approximately $18,000.00 annually from cottagers who use the road however, have made no attempt to rectify our problem over the past 20 years.

We are only asking the township to live up to their responsibilities and commitments. After all, East Moore's Lake Road is not all together different from our road.

A corrected version of the misprinted facts would be in order at this time.

Charles Gerditschke

Editor's note:

Prior to printing this story, I checked with the Lutterworth Township office to determine if there was a proper name for this private road. They indicated that it has no proper name and is generally described as the road leading to Beaver Lake.

The article itself was written as a report on the events of that council meeting, not a historical account of your road. It was not tailored to lead the reader in either direction, but to reflect the discussions of that evening.

Hustlers win in long run

Jack Snell was on the mound for fifteen innings Thursday night as the Hustlers open the Tri-County Fastball League finals at the Minden diamond.

In a 15 inning marathon Jack Snell pitched the whole game and scored the winning run as the Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers took a 1 - 0 lead in the best of five championship finals of the Tri-County Fastball League as they defeated Lindsay Town Rental 5 - 4 in the opening game in Minden on Thursday night.

These two teams who tied in the schedule with a 14 - 2 record both came to play ball as it wasn't until the last of the fifth inning that the Hustlers broke the scoreless tie with a single by Snell, a double by Dave Dollo and a single by Greg Newell for a 2 - 0 lead.

In the sixth inning Lindsay came back to tie the score and from there the marathon started.

In the eighth inning Lindsay pitcher Ted Moynes was relieved by John Bushnell and it wasn't until the tenth inning that Town Rental scored a go ahead run to lead 3 - 2.

In the bottom of the tenth Greg Newell doubled to lead off the inning and scored on a single by Dwight Sisson to again tie the game at 3 - 3.

In the eleventh inning Lindsay scored again on a walk, a stolen base and a single to take the lead again 4 - 3 but the Hustlers didn't give up as in the bottom of the inning Snell lead off with a single, then coaches Neil Burk and Gene Newell got into the act. With Burk running for Snell the Lindsay pitcher Bushnell balked and the runner went to second, Newell then laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt, moving the runner to third. Burk then scored on a fly ball by Bob Johnston.

In the fifteenth inning Snell lead of with a walk, went to second on a wild pitch and scored the winning run on a double by Greg Newell who over the night was the big bat for the locals with 3 doubles and 3 singles. Snell had 12 strikeouts and walked 1 batter in the win.

The next game of the series is on Tuesday night at 8:00 p.m. in Lindsay with the third game back in Minden on Thursday, August 27th at 8:00 p.m. Let's grab a blanket and get out and watch softball at its best and give the boys the boost they deserve.

HCDC succeeds in goal

In just its first year of operation, the Haliburton County Development Corporation has created 46.5 jobs in the county through its loans to new and expanding businesses.

The corporation, established one year ago with the aid of a $220,000 federal grant from the Community Futures program, has been more successful in its objective of job creation than had initially been expected, said manager Andy Campbell. He said the corporation made 22 loans to small businesses, amounting to $225,000 this year. He notes that, on average, one job has been created for each investment of $4,841, considerably lower than the $8,000 figure they had initially predicted.

In essence, the corporation is the lending branch of a banking service. It provides loans to new or expanding businesses that have been unable to obtain funds through the conventional channels.

He says the goal of the corporation is to create jobs through economic growth. This is accomplished by providing loans of up to $25,000 to businesses that have been unable to obtain funding from other sources. Going hand in hand with each loan is the requirement that it must create a new permanent job.

While the loans are not provided at a reduced interest rate, Campbell says they are generally more easily available than loans through a bank or other lending institution. And while the corporation works along the same lines as a bank, he notes that it is not in competition with them. On the contrary, he says he will often refer customers to banks first to see if they are eligible for a conventional loan.

To qualify for a loan through the corporation, a loan application must first be turned down by the Federal Business Development bank.

Because the loans made by the corporation are considered high-risk loans, Campbell says the corporation "is walking a fine line" in determining what it believes can be a viable venture. He says the corporation has to help businesses get underway in order to accomplish its goal, while at the same time protecting its investment.

Although he says it is really too early to guage the success rate of the businesses which have started up with the help of these loans, Campbell notes that the corporation still has a zero bad debt ratio. He admits that a small number of these new businesses have closed shop, but in each of these cases, it has been able to recover its investment.

Under the Community Futures program, the corporation will receive annual grants from the government of $220,000 for the first three years and $350,000 for two years. In addition to the interest acrued over the first five years, the corporation will have received grants totalling $1.36-million.

The corporation is governed by a board of directors made up of 17 people from across the county. Campbell says there are directors from almost every municipality in the county, providing good representation throughout.

During its first year of operation, the corporation loaned the greatest amount to the manufacturing sector. With loans to this sector totalling $82,500 or 3.6 per cent of all loans, Campbell says this is where the greatest number of jobs can be created. The manufacturing sector is a labour intensive atsmophere, he said.

Community Business and Personal Service took the next largest chunk. Campbell notes that this sector is the largest in the county. He said $64,100 or 28.5 per cent of the loans went to this sector.

Broken down further, the Trade industry took 33.1 per cent; Forestry took .9 per cent and Construction took .9 per cent. There were no loans forwarded to agricultural ventures.

With loan repayments and interest coming in, and with the second $220,000 grant, the corporation's assets will be expanding this year. Campbell says that as the funds grow, he anticipates there could be a shortage of requests for loans. With this in mind, he says the corporation will have to

NDP candidate Ivan Moore.

Moore leads NDP

While Bob Rae was lashing out against the Liberals and Conservatives in last Monday's Provincial Leadership debate, a small group of New Democrats were gathering at the Royal Canadian Legion in Lindsay to choose a representative for their party in the Victoria - Haliburton region. The nomination of Ivan Moore came almost three weeks after Liberal John Eakins and Conservative Art Ward began campaigning.

About 35 people were present at the Legion where the 68-year-old Moore was the sole nominee. The delay occurred after former Victoria - Haliburton NDP leader, Art Field, chose not to run.

Moore is a native of Mariposa, just south-west of Lindsay. When he was young his house burned and the family moved to Omemee. It was there that Moore and his father owned a butcher shop. He enlisted in the army and became a R.C. Engineer in England where he eventually took part in the rush on Germany. When peace broke out, Moore took an honourable discharge and went to work as a meat cutter at Loblaws in the Toronto area. After working in the meat business for a while, he took a stab at real estate then retired back in Lindsay three years ago.

Moore is following Rae with an attack against auto insurance companies and pollution but also promises to look into a better income for seniors. "My promises will not be like any promises by you know who that have never happened and you know never will," says Moore.

Burger poll

Liberal Candidate John Eakins has a clear lead over his closest opponents.

Or, at least that's what the poll is showing. The burger poll, that is, at Minden's Brown Owl Restaurant.

As of Friday, 40 people cast their ballot with an Eakins Burger, while only 21 invested in Ward Burgers, and 17 went for Moore Burgers.

The burger poll began soon after the election call, with voters, both eligible and non-eligible, casting their ballots for the burger, er, candidate of their choice.

According to staff at the Brown Owl, the poll went over so well during the last provincial election that they decided to do it again. "It's just for fun, to get everyone involved," said the restaurant manager.

But is it accurate? Well, no one really knows for sure. The staff on hand on Friday couldn't remember how their poll stacked up against the actual results in the last election.

Accurate or not, NDP candidate Ivan Moore wasn't taking any chances. He made a stop by the restaurant on Friday to cast his ballot.

Hole in one

A 173-yard drive earned Craig Copley of Scarborough a hole in one at the Blairhampton Golf Course on August 21.

Using a seven iron on the third hole, Copley dropped the ball into the cup from the tee. The hole in one was witnessed by Doug Woods.

Minden, Lutterworth swap garbage

A bit of garbage swapping was on the agenda for Lutterworth Township's meeting Thursday, as members of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township Council came to address the problem of its residents using the Lutterworth Dump.

After listening to the presentation from Anson, Hindon and Minden Council, Lutterworth agreed to issue permits to about 60 people allowing them to use the dump.

Sinc Nesbitt told Lutterworth Council that its bylaw forbidding nonresidents to use the dump was creating a problem, especially with residents of the Bob Lake subdivision. He said every municipality in the county faces the problem of residents from neighbouring municipalities using their dump sites. "You can start at the northern end of the county and if everyone tried to lock each other out, we'd really be in trouble," said Nesbitt.

The problem stems from Lutterworth Council's publication of the bylaw restricting the use of its dump to residents. An earlier attempted bluff by Anson, Hindon and Minden Township that indicated there was an agreement in place between the townships was uncovered when Lutterworth Council asked for proof of the agreement at its previous meeting.

After listening to the presentation, councillor Al Stott said, "It sounds like a trade off to me." He admitted that there are Lutterworth Township residents who use the Minden dumps.

Acting Reeve Carol Puffer noted that County Council had conducted a study in 1982 regarding a county-wide waste disposal plan. However, as neither Puffer nor Nesbitt were on county council at that time, there was no indication of any outcome from that study.

Although Lutterworth Township has not been actively enforcing its restrictive bylaw, and the 60 residents were said to have continued using the dump, councillor Stott noted that these people would likely feel more secure if they knew they can use the dump without breaking the law. Stott also suggested that a committee of two members from each council be formed to study the situation and find a permanent solution.

Nesbitt agreed, but asked that council waive the present bylaw until something can be ironed out. "We should probably have had a deal in black and white," Nesbitt agreed.

Toward the end of the meeting, Lutterworth council decided that dump passes should be issued. A list of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township residents who use the dump will be requested and passes will be issued.

Loans fund builds fast

become more aggressive in economic development. "We'll have to get out and make things happen as opposed to sitting back and waiting," he said.

One idea he has to accomplish this is to hold public forums to identify what sort of development people would like to see. He says that once a viable venture has been targetted, it could potentially be developed through a Small Business Development Corporation, which would involve a number of investors.

In addition to lending money, the corporation is also involved in business counselling. Part of this counselling is provided prior to the actual lending, but there is also ongoing counselling to avert problems with the businesses.

Campbell says that if a business does find itself in financial trouble, the corporation will try to help out by providing advice. He said the problems will be brought to the attention of the directors, who will try to come up with some ideas to get the company back on its feet.

Although he tries to keep in touch with the customers and stay abreast of the state the businesses are in, Campbell says he does not want to control these businesses. The corporation has to protect its investment by ensuring that the businesses are successful, he says. However, he says it has to live with the fact that not all the businesses will thrive.

Campbell says he tries to build a good rapore with his clients in hopes of preventing any problems from getting out of control. "So far it has worked pretty well," he says.

Jocks to pay fee

Athletes at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School who wish to participate in various sporting activities will be asked to pay a fee for doing so in the coming school year. An idea, endorsed by the Haliburton County Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday evening, will require the students to pay an $8 fee to participate in intra-mural or high school athletic teams.

The fee scheme was presented to the board by the school's girl's physical education department head, Kit Pizzey. She told the board, the plan was being proposed following a meeting of the coaches and physical education instructors at the school last June. The group felt the introduction of the fee was necessary to cover the increasing costs of the high schools athletic awards program and to increase the students' sense of involvement in the activities.

According to Mrs. Pizzey, more students are taking advantage of the programs offered each year, resulting in more awards being presented. Increased costs for the trophies, pins and other awards have strained the budget, she said. The awards are presented at the athletic banquet each spring.

Included in the $8 fee would be the $6.50 cost for the banquet, it was explained to the board. The remaining portion of the money would be used to purchase the awards. In the past, the school's athletic associations had provided the funds for the program.

Approximately 200 students take part in the various athletic programs offered at the school.

During the discussion, it was revealed that the coaches and staff advisers who attend the banquet do not pay. Pizzey explained that the majority of the staff objected to the principle of being charged for the meal. She noted that the coaches and staff donate a lot of their free time to the various teams.

To ensure that athletes pay the fee, students will not be allowed to participate until the money is paid. Mrs. Pizzey said students who are unable to afford the fee will not be denied access to the school's sports program.

While a number of trustees expressed reservations to the athletic fee proposal, they agreed to allow the charge to be levied this year on a trial basis.

AHM council briefs

The following items were discussed at the August 18 meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education.

Western trip

The board has given its approval to a field trip to Alberta and British Columbia, being organized by history teacher Frank Wallace. Mr. Wallace presented an outline of the proposed trip and the costs.

The teacher told the board he did expect to have any problems finding 30 students willing to take the excursion. Each student will have to provide $1,029 plus expenses to take part in the trip. The trip is open to senior students, grade 11 and up. The students will miss five days of classes plus the Thanksgiving Holiday weekend to take part in the excursion.

Included in the itenerary are stops at the Calgary Olympic sites, Tyrell Museum, a number of high schools, a trip down the Pacific coast by boat, and a

Prep time put off

A decision on how to word a policy statement which would give elementary school teachers in the county up to 40 minutes a day for lesson preparations has been left to the next meeting of the Haliburton County Board of Education. The matter was the subject of a lengthy discussion Tuesday evening at the board's regular meeting.

A draft policy, read to the trustees, did not meet with the agreement of the members of the board. Some objected to the wording which they felt implied the board was obligating itself to provide the preparation time, while others objected to the inclusion of a specific amount of time in a week. The draft policy suggested 200 minutes per week (40 minutes a day) be made available to elementary school teachers, where possible, for lesson preparation.

Class preparation time is already available to high school teachers within the system. The elementary school teachers had raised the matter during the recent contract discussions. The teachers agreed to forego the inclusion of class preparation time in the new contract on the understanding that the board would present a policy covering this matter.

Members of the board who participated in the negotiations with the teachers stressed that the board had an obligation to create a policy since it was a matter discussed during contract talks.

It was pointed out that most elementary school teachers have times during the day when they are not in class. A visiting French or music teacher, or physical education instruction by another teacher, create openings in the daily schedule which could be used for lesson preparation, the board was told.

While these opportunities occur most frequently in the larger schools, concern was expressed that if the board struck a policy covering all elementary school teachers, those working in the smaller schools could demand the same access to preparation time. "They could claim they are not being treated fairly," one trustee suggested.

Those who favoured the draft policy noted it included the statement that the board would "attempt to provide" this time for elementary school teachers. They pointed out that in some cases it would be difficult to achieve, but the board's intentions were being made clear by the policy.

Without a consensus on the issue, the trustees agreed to consider the matter over the next month and discuss it again in September.

When you go away, the need for blood doesn't.

Driver ed costs rise

tour of the Expo site in Vancouver.

Driver education fees

Students taking the driver education course this year will note an incrase in fees from $115 to $150. The reason for the increase is the number of in-car instruction hours has been raised from eight to 10. The fee is 75% of the total cost with the board picking up the remainder.

It was pointed out that the rate charged by the Haliburton County board was still cheaper than the charges imposed in surrounding education jurisdictions. The students quickly recoup the cost of the classes in reduced insurance premiums.

The driver education facilities are available to adults in the community. The cost for the service is $195.

Bus passengers

Parents who elect to send their children to schools outside the county, and who accept the financial responsibility for this action, should also be responsible for transporting their youngsters to and from the facility, the board has decided.

The board was told that a number of families in the eastern end of the county had decided to send their children to schools in Hastings County. In doing so, the families must pay the Hastings Board of Education for the services provided.

The Haliburton County Board does send some students to the Hastings Schools in Bancroft, and provides transportation for these students. However, it was pointed out that questions of liability could be raised if students from families which are purchasing the educational services in Hastings County, ride on the buses provided by the haliburton County Board for its own students.

The parents of these children will be notified that they will no longer be able to use Haliburton County buses and must provide their own transportation to the schools outside the county.

Student handbook

An updated version of the student handbook will be distributed to high school students this year during registration. HHSS principal Andrew Hemphill presented the book to the members of the board Tuesday evening. Among the additions to the book are rules of procedure for school dances and a realignment of the weight given to examinations vs term work during the school year.

According to the principal, the weighting has been changed to reflect the environment which the students will be entering after high school. Those with courses leading to the completion of their formal education at the end of high school, will see a heavier emphasis placed on day to day work, while students going on to higher education will see a greater emphasis on examination results.

Safari is highlight of year

The 14 days and nights of travelling by bus across the dessert under temperatures that ranged from 40 degrees C in the day to -2 degrees C at night were the highlights of Lori Saunder's year in Australia.

While this two-week excursion may sound a little like an endurance test designed by the military, Lori said this safari was a tremendous experience that capped off her year-long Rotary Exchange trip to Australia.

Along with 51 other Rotary Exchange students from around the world, Lori, 19, slept either on the bus or under the stars during the safari that took them into the interior of Australia. She said the countryside was absolutely breathtaking with its huge gorges. At times, she said they drove for hours and hours without seeing anything but dessert and the occasional kangaroo. But, in other places the countryside was "too beautiful to describe," she said.

"One big family"

Lori, who returned from her 12-month exchange last week, said she enjoyed the entire year, but the safari was really the highlight. After the first while, the 52 students on the safari, including seven Canadians, "became one big family," she said.

Despite the dramatic temperature changes - "sometimes we'd wake up to a frost" - and the routine meals - porridge for breakfast and balogna sandwiches for lunch and supper - it is an experience Lori will never forget. It is a part of the country that even many Australians never get to see, she said.

Lori's Rotary exchange began on August 12, 1986 when she left for a visit to Expo in Vancouver. After spending a few days there, she flew off again to arrive on the western coast of Australia on the 17th.

For a full year, Lori lived in the small city of Bunbury, spending about 10 weeks with each of five different families. Like Haliburton County, Bunbury is mainly a tourist area, says Lori. However, it also has an active port, where ships are loaded with wood, salt and titanium for export.

Gains independence

She praises the Rotary Exchange program, saying it allowed her to become a more independent person. She said being away from her parents for a year, forced her to become more self reliant, although she says her host families were very helpful and supportive.

While she says she did not realize it until she got back to Canada, Lori is still speaking with a trace of an Australian accent. Australians, however, often mistook her Canadian accent for American, sometimes resulting in her being labelled a "Yank". Canadians are generally well liked in Australia, while Americans are less welcome there. In order to identify herself as a Canadian, she began wearing a pin with the maple leaf emblem.

Lori Saunders displays one of the boomerangs that came back with her from down under.

Occasionally being referred to as a "Yank" was not half as bad as the reception she received during one of her few snorkelling outings in the ocean, though. While diving just off shore, she said she looked around to see a shark within a few feet of her. She was later told it was only a gummy shark, which are not supposed to be dangerous. However, to her a shark is a shark, and she figured her mother would appreciate it if she kept her distance. She said that was the last time she went snorkelling.

Scary experience

Despite this scary experience, Lori says she still did a good bit of swimming in the ocean. She says she even tried surfing for the first time in her life. "It's not as easy as it looks, though," she admits. She made it up onto her knees on the board, but it is safe to see she will need more practice before she is able to hang ten.

Although she found plenty of time for recreation, her visit to Australia was not just a vacation. She still had to attend school regularly, as well as to do some work and participate in community activities.

Because there is a different school year in Australia, Lori started Grade 12 there toward the end of their semester. After the summer break, she had to start all over in Grade 12 in February. And because she had to leave before the term was over, she says she may not get her credits for the courses she took.

With this possibility in mind, she said she took courses that she felt she would enjoy, such as photography and drama. She said she wanted to take subjects that she would not normally have taken. However, she did receive recommendations from the school which may be considered by Haliburton Highlands Secondary School for credits, she said.

Uniform code

An interesting aspect of school life in Australia is the uniform code all students are encouraged to follow. Lori says that the private schools are very strict in their requirements for uniforms, while the government - run schools are a little more lenient.

Lori went to a government school, which meant she was required to wear a navy skirt and sweater with a white polo shirt and black or navy stockings and shoes. She said she liked the uniform code because they put everyone on an equal footing. She also notes that it eliminates the worry of what to wear in the morning.

Overall, Lori says the exchange was a great experience. Except for the occasional bout with homesickness, she said there were no problems all with the trip. And although she said she enjoyed her stay and would like to return again, she is happy to be back in Haliburton. "There is no place like home," she admits.

Coping with stress

Dr. Stephen Dawson is a Medical practitioner serving the Minden community who writes a weekly column on health matters for The Times.

(part 2)

Last week, I discussed how stress is implicated in the cause of several medical disorders and outlined the major symptoms experienced in the "Generalized Anxiety disorder".

Wouldn't it be nice to simply take a pill that would relieve all these symptoms. Not exactly. As soon as the pill wears off you not only have to deal with the problems that caused the anxiety in the first place, but also all of the side effects and complications of these dreaded "Nerve pills".

The first group of nerve pills were the barbiturates such as secobarbital and pentobarbital. These are dangerous because they're addictive and fatal in overdoses.

The benzodiazepines (including Valium, Librium, Xanax, Ativan and Halcion, to name a few) have, unfortunately, become the most widely used (and abused) drugs in North America. Although these are safer than the barbiturates, a definite physical dependence can still develop with these drugs.

Abrupt cessation of benzodiazepines after high doses for a month can result in withdrawal symptoms such as rebound anxiety, insomnia, muscle spasms, nightmares, seizures, psychosis, fever and sometimes even death.

Because of the addiction that can develop with these drugs they should be avoided. If absolutely necessary for unusually intense anxiety, they should be used at the least dose for the shortest duration possible.

Many patients have been on these valium-type pills several years and it is almost impossible to ever get them to stop taking these drugs.

L-tryptophan is a safe non-addicting mild sedative that is preferred for people that have trouble sleeping. Nevertheless, before getting into any drugs, I would suggest the following measures:

1. Obtain treatment for any underlying medical disorder such as hyperthyroidism, adrenal disease or hypoglycemia.

2. Deal directly with any problems you're experiencing and resolve any conflicts as soon as possible. If you can't solve these problems on your own seek help from your family, friends or competent counselors.

3. Adopt a regular exercise program. People in good physical condition are less likely to suffer from stress, anxiety and depression.

Try a warm glass of milk at bed time.

Try relaxing in a hot bath just before bed time.

Avoid caffeine, alcohol, stimulants and unnecessary drugs.

7. Don't take your problems to bed with you. Release any negative emotions you have harbored during the day to relieve tension and get a relaxing, emotionally healing sleep.

8. Maintain realistic goals and expectations. Try not to 'overachieve' the impossible.

9. Try, despite everything, to maintain a sense of humor.

10. Maintain a positive outlook on life.

11. Programs such as progressive muscular relaxation training, transcendental meditation, biofeedback and hypnosis are often useful.

A very effective relaxation exercise can be achieved by having your spouse or a friend read the following passage to you and by following these instructions closely:

Close your eyes ... Rest your arms comfortably ... Let your back and shoulders rest comfortably so you can breathe easily and deeply ... Choose a word that is simple and calming to concentrate on as you breathe ... If none comes to mind, use the word "one". ... Just allow yourself to attend to that word as you breathe ... Feel your neck and scalp relax. Let any tension in those muscles slip and drift away ... Now ... continue to feel the relaxation flowing over you ... down your neck ... around your eyebrows and eyelids ... Allow your jaw muscles to relax ... Let your whole face become comfortably heavy and relaxed ... Now slowly breathe in through your nose ... and allow the air to fill the spaces in your lungs ... Feel your chest expand with air. Now ... hold your breath ... Now ... without pressure or force ... slowly exhale through your mouth. Feel the air as it passes over your lips. Repeat the breathing cycle ... inhale ... hold ... exhale and relax. Feel your body relaxing ... Feel the tension flow out and the calmness and warmth flow in ... Feel your limbs become warm and pleasantly heavy and calm ... Let go of the muscles in your back ... Feel yourself becoming deeply calm and relaxed ... As you repeat your breathing ... repeat your word ... Inhale ... Exhale ... As you continue, feel yourself floating ... feel the warmth and heaviness filling your body ... Your whole body is relaxed ... your waist ... your knees ... your ankles ... your feet ... Inhale ... and exhale ... Now you are peacefully relaxed ... warm and comfortably heavy. Each time you breathe, your body relaxes more deeply ... And yet, you are not tired ... You are centered ... awake ... aware ... and deeply relaxed and comfortable. All your muscles are smooth and comfortable ... You are warm and heavy. As you breathe ... and hold ... and exhale ... you become refreshed. You are relaxed ... comfortable ... peaceful ... quiet. Continue to ... inhale ... and exhale ... As you relax, you feel the peace ... the quiet ... You are at peace ... refreshed ... Now, when you are ready ... you may allow yourself to slowly ... slowly ... become aware of yourself in the room ... Slowly, when you are ready ... open your eyes ... feel yourself back in your chair. Continue to feel relaxed ... take your warmth and comfort with you ... Feel relaxed ... refreshed ... and calm.

I hope these suggestions to alleviate stress will be useful. Contact your doctor if this self-treatment fails, if there is a sudden feeling of panic or if new, unexplained symptoms develop.

senior league

by Pearl Lyle

Hi Folks!!

Beautiful weather we are enjoying. Doris took a bus load of we Senior Citizens to see the parade at the Minden Fair. It was terribly hot but it was a chance to get out and we enjoyed it.

Our Sunday church service was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Burgess and on Tuesday morn by Rev. Moll of Minden United Church.

Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper and the Scottish Dancers came to entertain us. It was too bad we didn't know they were coming, or we would have made some arrangements for refreshments to be served. We are sorry about that, folks, and it will not happen again. Thank you very much for coming and we sure hope you come again.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cameron of Peterborough came to see their sister, Winnie Barnum, who is still not well. Others not well are Mrs. Jarvis and Mrs. Stutt. We hope they will soon be better.

Mrs. Colborne and Norma Baron came on Friday afternoon and played and sang for us, which was very nice. We enjoy that.

Birthdays in here for August are Edna Cowan, Violet Thornett, Isabella Avery, Mary O'Toole, Joe Gauthier and Daisy Sutherland.

The movies Monday eve were "A Heron Named Bill" and "The Loon The North and You".

Clark and Glenda Simpson of Kinmount came to see their father, Mr. Jim Simpson, who is one of our latest residents.

My two daughters, Jean Hewitt and Anna Gordon came to see me Monday night. Doris took a bus load of us for a nice drive on Tuesday afternoon to Gelert, Lochlin and Ingoldsby. It was very interesting to see the different homes of a lot of people residing or working here. Doris and Linda know that part of the country real well. In fact they know it in any direction around here.

I almost forgot to tell you, we stopped at the Kawartha Dairy on our way home and had another of their famous ice cream cones (on the house). Thank you folks very much - we appreciate it.

"Most people really don't want great wealth, just enough to make the neighbours jealous!!"

Au Revoir.

We found a way to carry insulin. In the bottom of a thermos bottle put 3 - 4 ice cubes then put insulin in a "baggie" and in on top of the ice and close up tightly. The ice didn't even melt in our 2 hour drive.

Guild news

by Virginia Muenzel

Have you been to see "Call Of The Wild" and "People And Places" at the Gallery yet? If not, you still have time. The current shows end on August 23. It has been one of our most popular shows. Don't miss it.

There are three more weeks of KIDS ART. This fun group meets on Wednesdays from 1 to 3 p.m. Only the first 20 kids are allowed in. Children must be between the ages of five and 12 years old. On Wednesday the 19th, David Risk will be doing wild life and nature drawing with them. On August 26, Wendy Bateman will teach them some kool-aid dyeing and perhaps some drop spindle spinning. There will be one more meeting on September 2.

On September 10 the Guild Committee will hold its first fall meeting at the Gallery at 10 a.m. All Guilds are asked to send a representative.

Throughout the summer, several aspiring writers have been meeting with Susan Swan, our writer in Residence, at the Haliburton Library. The group has thoroughly enjoyed the time with Susan. She has been a great help to us all, and will be missed when she leaves at the end of the month. Before she leaves, however, some of the writers will gather at the Rails' End Gallery on August 27 to do a reading of their work. The public is invited to join us at 7 p.m.

The Guild is very pleased to note that both Joan and Peter Hoad won an honourable mention at the Buckhorn Wild Life Art Festival last weekend. Joan for a watercolout in the amateur art contest, and Peter for a bronze polar bear in the sculptor contest. Congratulations to you both.

In just two weeks the school buses will be on the roads again. School commences September 8, the day after Labour Day.

As a motorist: Extra care should be taken when you see a school bus approaching. Always remember that if the bus flashes its red lights, all traffic in both directions must stop. On a multi-lane highway with a median strip only cars behind must stop

Failure to stop carries a fine of $100 to $500 for a first offence. Each subsequent offence carries a fine of $259 to $1000, or imprisonment for up to six months or both and an assessment of six demerit points.

As a parent: Remind your children to be very careful when getting off the bus, and to always watch for moving traffic when crossing the road. Children should be reminded of the safety rules they were taught at school and to be on their best behaviour when riding on the bus.

It is important that they remain seated until it is time to leave the bus. A few moments spent briefing your child could be the difference between life and death.

To receive a brochure dealing with Ontario School Bus Stopping Laws, drop in to the Haliburton County Information Centre situated in the Drag River Municipal Building, Maple Ave., Haliburton. The office is open Monday - Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or you may call 457-2733.

Our centre in the Municipal Building, Milne St., Minden, is open every Tuesday from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. or call 286-4100.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

Queen acknowledges loyalty oath

- by Gerald Irish -

Bluegrass 1987 is now history but Bluegrass '88 is already in the planning stages. Some groups have been booked for next year and a Bluegrass committee meeting is scheduled. Winner of the boat, motor and trailer was Buster Yates from Etobicoke. The Bluegrass 50 - 50 draw winner was Betty Vanamburg from North Bay.

The President of Branch 129 was pleasantly surprised when she received a letter from Sao Paulo, Brazil, expressing interest in the Haliburton Legion Bluegrass Festival and in its organization and management. The writer did not state how he had heard about the festival but Joan hopes to find out.

Bluegrass could never be a success or even a reality without the dedication and work of all committee chairmen and volunteers. Approximately 130 Legionnaires, Ladies Auxiliary members and Legion friends worked to make sure Bluegrass '87 did succeed.

On Thursday, 18 people started a cribbage marathon at the Legion. Fifteen hours later, 16 people finished play. Winners of the most games were Irene Higgins and Jen Crarey. To complete her winning week, Irene was the weekly 50 - 50 draw winner at the Legion.

I am constantly amazed at how busy the members of the Ladies Auxiliary are. They did many long hard hours at Bluegrass, continue their catering tasks, organize regular Flea Markets and much, much more. Congratulations, ladies.

Department of Veterans' Affairs representative, Gary Barker, will be here on Tuesday, August 25 from 10 a.m. to noon. For an appointment with Gary, call Lloyd Whittaker at 457-1093.

Don't forget the Executive meeting on Thursday, August 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Congratulations and best wishes to Keith and Mabel Brannigan. I understand they are now the new owners of the Fireside Restaurant on Highway 35 just out of Minden.

Last Friday Jim and Janet Tice attended the graduation of their daughter, Chantel, at Cadet camp in Petawawa. They reported that the ceremonies were very impressive and memorable.

When we were in London, England on July 1, we witnessed the presentation of letters of loyalty by Legion branches in Canada to the Queen. These were given to the Queen Mother. This week President Joan was proud to receive the following letter from Buckingham Palace:

Dear President,

The Queen has commanded me to thank you, and all those on whose behalf you wrote, for your kind address of loyalty, presented at Buckingham Palace on 1st July. Her Majesty was much moved by this demonstration of loyalty by her Canadian subjects and sends her warm best wishes to you as she prepares for a further visit to Canada this Autumn.

Yours sincerely,

Robert Fellowes

Branch 129 has arranged for a bus to the C.N.E. on Saturday, August 22, leaving the Legion at 7 a.m. and returning at 8:30 p.m. Cost, per person is $15.00.

Don't forget the District Drumhead, coming soon - September 27.
